

Vision for the Organization

What would you personally like to see your organization become?

Who or what purpose does it serve?

What reputation would it have?

What contribution would it make?

What values would it embody?

What mission would it have?

Who would be its clients/customers?

I would people work together?

If you had this sort of organization, what would it bring you? How would it allow your own personal vision to flourish?